EverCraft LLC designs and builds beautifully curated and crafted livable homes. Kattia Easterly, Sabrina Kelkar, and Kalpana Oommen are the driving force behind EverCraft with a combined 28 years of residential development, residential construction, and interiors experience.

Partner Kattia Easterly previously founded Serrano Conway Homes, which was a reflection of her own desire to deliver high end design with functional livability. "Each of our homes is truly unique and is an intersection of art, creativity and functionality that ultimately exceeds the buyer's or client's expectations. Our passion stems from designing homes which are uniquely curated and bespoke," says Easterly.

Partner Sabrina Kelkar's journey took her to Beazer Homes, where she honed her considerable skills in the operational practices impacting both quality and speed of a build. "Even the best plans will need onsite adjustments. We take pride in both our homes and our problem-solving talents... always focused on doing the right thing," says Kelkar.

Having designed and built her own custom home, Partner Kalpana Oommen understands trust is the key to any successful build. "The relationship is everything. We know our clients want their build in the hands of dreamers and doers... and most importantly, the hands that will carry them through one of the most significant journeys they'll undertake," says Oommen.

EverCraft is grateful to be surrounded by partners with shared values for delivering unparalleled service from industry leading architects, artisans, tradespeople to site planners, landscape architects, and realtors. All longtime residents of Atlanta, the three partners drive EverCraft's mission to leave their hometown more beautiful and more livable with each build.
